Seven Nuns in Las Vegas A Farce in Two Acts, by Natalie E. White

When it snows in May in Indiana, Sister Columbia, an elderly rheumatic nun prays to St. Joseph and asks him to take her where the weather is warm. St. Joseph takes her, the convent and six other nuns who happen to be in the convent at the moment to the warm sands of Nevada just outside Las Vegas. The "miracle" is a shock to the nuns and Las Vegas and the result is a play that is both humorous and charming.
